Name:	ID#: Co/Ctr#:
Home Institution:	[] Undergraduate	[] Graduate student (Exchange student ONLY)

Directions: Study the online course descriptions in the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Bulletin (Undergraduate or Graduate) to choose courses that you need. International Visiting and Exchange students are expected to maintain full-time status, which is a minimum of 12 credit hours for undergraduate level or 9 credit hours for graduate level. Exchange students, the exchange program will provide up to 15 hours of undergraduate level courses or 12 hours of graduate level. Costs for additional hours will be billed to the student.

In general, courses numbered 100-199 are freshman level, 200-299 are sophomore level, 300-399 are junior level, and 400-499 are senior level. Courses numbered 500-599, 600-699, and 700-799 are reserved for Architecture, Law, Dentistry, Medicine, and other professional school offerings. Courses numbered 800-899 and 900-999 are graduate level.

Course prerequisites are established by departments to indicate the level of student preparation necessary for successful completion of course requirements. Equivalent preparation is frequently considered sufficient. This determination may be made by either the faculty member in charge of the class or the department chair depending on college policy. Official course prerequisites are listed in the Bulletin (Undergraduate or Graduate). It is the student's responsibility to be aware of and meet all course prerequisites.

Enter your course request in order of priority. Provide several alternative courses. Not all courses are offered each term.
